Subscribed databases are here.

Tips for search

- Try different search terms when you cannot get enough search results.
 - Decrease the number of search terms.
(e.g. "Japan festival history" → "Japan festival")
 - Try hiragana, not kanji. *when you search in Japanese
(e.g. "民族学 入門" → "みんぞくがく にゅうもん")
 - Put a space between the last name and first name
(e.g. "新井白石" → "新井 白石")
 - Use original spellings.
(e.g. "ケンペル" → "Kaempfer")
