Nichibunken Monograph Series

This series comprises scholarly books in English representing the high quality of research carried out at Nichibunken. The authors are faculty and visiting research scholars at Nichibunken.
About Nichibunken

The International Research Center for Japanese Studies (Nichibunken) was founded to pursue international, interdisciplinary, and comprehensive research on Japanese culture and to provide research cooperation and support for Japanese studies scholars around the world.

In addition to research on the distinctiveness of Japanese culture, Nichibunken emphasizes the perspectives of comparative studies and cultural exchange. Its researchers are involved in diverse interdisciplinary team research projects on Japanese culture that bring together specialists from a wide range of fields from within and outside Japan. It engages in international research collaboration of various kinds such as sharing research information with scholars and research institutions all around the world and sponsoring the participation of its faculty at scholarly meetings held overseas.

PhD Program at Nichibunken

The Department of Japanese Studies of the School of Cultural and Social Studies of the Graduate University for Advanced Studies (Sokendai) is located at Nichibunken. The department promotes interdisciplinary and comprehensive Japanese studies education and research from an international perspective. Students from abroad as well as from Japan enroll in the department’s doctoral program. Under the special inter-university researchers system, the department also accepts and trains graduate students recommended by other universities.
Library

The Nichibunken Library collects a wide range of materials needed for research on Japan and makes these materials available to researchers. It also provides access to Japanese studies-related information of various kinds. The 510,000 titles in the library can be searched via the online public access catalog (OPAC) and researchers outside Nichibunken may use the inter-library loan system to apply for document copying and loans of books and other materials. The collection prioritizes books about Japan written in other languages and translations of Japanese works originating in Japan and overseas. In addition to books and periodicals, the collection includes colored photographs from the late Edo and Meiji periods, old maps, and video, DVD, and CD audio and visual materials.

Public Database Access

Nichibunken develops databases of the materials in its collection, the outcomes of research by its faculty, and Japan-related materials held by other organizations. It now provides public online access to 53 databases. Nichibunken lectures may be viewed online in real time via Internet broadcasting. Public access to an archive of over 200 lectures is now available.

Visiting Research Scholars / Fellows

As an international research center, Nichibunken opens its doors to the world by inviting many scholars from foreign countries to carry out international and interdisciplinary research related to Japanese culture. The foreign scholars are classified either as “visiting research scholars,” who are accepted for periods from three months to one year and receive a salary from Nichibunken, or as “visiting research fellows,” whose income is provided by public and other foundations.

In addition to carrying out their own research, foreign scholars at Nichibunken take part in team research projects organized by Nichibunken and deliver presentations at seminars, forums, and international meetings. They also have the opportunity to publish the results of their research in Nichibunken publications.

We hope that the close collaboration between these foreign researchers and the professors at Nichibunken and other Japanese scholars will become the base for the further development of Japanese studies in the world.

Nichibunken House

Nichibunken House consists of family- and single-occupancy units. Family-occupancy units are primarily for visiting research scholars who stay for a long term, with their families. Single-occupancy units comprise two zones, one for long-term users and the other for guests such as team researchers here for a short stay.

Qualification for use:

Short-term stays up to one month
- Visiting Faculty Members
- Team Researchers
- Participants in International Symposiums

Long-term stays
- Visiting Research Scholars
- JF Research Fellows
- JSPS Research Fellows
- Visiting Research Fellows
